

Space for Leaders: A Two-Day Primary Leadership Residential

*Facilitated by Jonathan Hannam with co-facilitators Fiona Adams & Paul Brown
Wednesday 6th November- Friday 8th November 2019*

at The Cumberland Hotel, East Cliff, Bournemouth, BH1 3HF

Audience: Headteacher's and senior leaders of primary schools who want the opportunity to take quality time out of school to think strategically to review and re-examine their approaches to school improvement and developing leadership and learning in a context of collaboration and mutual support. This residential programme will offer a balance of optional facilitated workshops to challenge and stimulate new insights and the opportunity for personal reflection, coaching and guidance that will add value to your school's thinking. There will also be ample time for heads, deputies and senior leaders to work together strategically on their own school priorities and do some deep thinking, free from day-to-day school interruptions. Participants will help shape the focus of the workshops offered.

OVERVIEW:

This 48 hour programme, will focus upon a range of key themes that are central to leading a highly effective school in the current educational climate which may include:

- The challenges of creating a broad and balanced curriculum
- Defining your accountability framework independent of Ofsted or the DfE to take autonomy of holding yourself to account.
- Role-modelling self care and well being – the importance of 'proper selfishness'
- How to ensure your staff have high quality professional learning to enable pedagogical mastery
- The importance of courageous leadership
- Embedding a creative curriculum through creative leadership
- How to have difficult but constructive conversations
- How to embed a coaching culture to develop staff capacity and autonomy

Facilitated by Jonathan Hannam, Fiona Adams and Paul Brown

Jonathan Hannam

Jonathan has been a headteacher of three schools over a period of 12 years and now works as a freelance educational facilitator specialising in supporting schools across the south with leadership development, developing learning culture, growth mindsets, coaching and Philosophy For Children (P4C).

He regularly facilitates NPQH, NPQSL and NPQML leadership programmes for the National College through Winchester University.

He has written part of the Guernsey Curriculum and provided training for all Guernsey Schools on it's ongoing implementation. Jonathan regularly coaches headteachers and senior leaders in all phases on a 1:1 basis.

Fiona Adams

Fiona has been a headteacher in Hampshire schools for the past 18 years.

She currently leads Hordle CE Primary School, a National Support School judged Outstanding by OFsted in 2015. Fiona is a National Leader of Education: working with schools across Hampshire, Dorset and the Isle of Wight. She is a Pupil Premium reviewer and a leadership coach.

Fiona's passion is working with future leaders and works with Winchester University facilitating on both NPQH and NPQEL programmes and with Hampshire Local Authority leading their Aspiring Deputy programme.

Paul Brown

Paul is currently the headteacher of Bransgore C of E primary school in Hampshire, which is a teaching school and national support school. He also operates an outstanding ITT programme serving 35 schools.

He has been a serving headteacher for 16 years working in three very different settings, including a school in special measures in Cumbria, which was judged to be one of the "100 most improved schools" in the country in 2009. He has also been the interim headteacher in several schools including ones in challenging circumstances.

Paul is the current Hampshire NAHT president, which keeps him outward facing, as well as facilitating on the NPQH programme and a Programme for aspiring faith school headteachers for the Lancaster and Carlisle Diocese
